

ADMIRAL THOMAS H. MOORER, USN (RET.)

[Redacted]

[Redacted]

I urgently need your help right now to stop President Clinton from letting acknowledged homosexuals into the armed services.

As a former Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, I know how devastating it would be to morale and readiness if President Clinton goes ahead with his plan to permit homosexuals to serve in the military.

That is why I have accepted the leadership of the American Security Council's national campaign to persuade Congress to stop this.

It's critical you sign the petition I've enclosed and rush it back to me immediately.

The petitions ask the Senators and Representatives to codify into law the current ban on acknowledged homosexuals.

I'll then add your name to a master petition, along with those from thousands of other concerned and angry Americans from your state and congressional district, and rush them to your Senators and Representatives.

It is very important that we continue to put pressure on the Senate and House of Representatives. We must show them the vast majority of Americans are outraged at this policy and we want the current ban put permanently into law.

Secretary of Defense Les Aspin has recently stated in a memo, "...the challenge is to prevent the Congress from overturning the new policy."

He further stated that Senator Nunn is the key person in the Senate. That's why it's so urgent that we immediately let Senator Nunn know we support him all the way.

Senator Nunn has powerfully stated that he opposes letting acknowledged homosexuals into the military. And frankly, that has to be a very difficult position for him to find himself in.

After all, this is the first President his party has had in 12 years. Yet now, he finds himself opposing his own President after only a few weeks in office.

He has worked out a compromise with President Clinton. Senator Nunn is holding hearings on this issue and President Clinton will hold off six months before removing the ban.

The political pressures on Senator Nunn are massive, and we must let him know a majority of the American people stand behind him 100%.

That is why I'll give Senator Nunn the full national petition with, hopefully, 1,000,000 signatures!

Because the fact remains, President Clinton has brought this upon himself. The homosexual lobby gave him an estimated $8,000,000 for his campaign, and now they want to be repaid.

But if President Clinton had spent any time in the military he would understand how disastrous this will be.

We also must let every member of the Senate know we oppose allowing gays in the military.

The homosexual lobby has mounted an all-out campaign to win this fight, and they are putting immense pressure on the Senators.

That's why we have mounted this nationwide campaign.

Those of us who understand what open homosexuality will do to life in military uniform simply cannot sit by and watch a radical fringe minority group destroy the discipline, cohesion, and combat effectiveness of our armed forces.

Our military is not some kind of social experiment to be toyed with to pay a political debt. It must be ready to defend the nation and protect our national interests worldwide.

Before being forced by President Clinton to agree to begin changing the ban, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, General Colin Powell said that allowing homosexuals in the military would be "prejudicial to good order and discipline."

Army Chief of Staff General Gordon Sullivan said admitting gays would create "very difficult management problems."

Former Acting Secretary of the Navy Sean O'Keefe stated that the very discussion of this policy is already undermining morale among sailors.

And Senator John McCain, a Vietnam POW, said the President's plan makes President Carter's pardon of Vietnam War deserters look like a Sunday School picnic.

Just consider these facts:

- Military service is a privilege not a right. Many Americans are prohibited from serving because they are too short, too tall, too heavy, color-blind, or flat-footed, just to name a few. They are excluded because something about them is not compatible with military service.
- Military promotions are based on merit. Yet lifting the ban on homosexuals would be followed by promotion quotas for gays and lawsuits if gays were not promoted in representative numbers.
- Some homosexual activists have already demanded that the military stop its mandatory testing for the AIDS virus.
- The influx of gays into the military would greatly increase health risks to other service members. Gays have a much greater incidence of AIDS and HIV infection, as well as higher rates of hepatitis-A, hepatitis-B, gonorrhea, syphilis, and a wide variety of other venereal and communicable diseases.
- Homosexuals cannot be divorced from the AIDS issue. A medical report in 1984 indicated that homosexuals had a median of 1,422 sexual partners in their lifetime. In addition, health professionals report that there has recently been an increase of non-protected anal intercourse among gays -- the most common cause of the spread of the AIDS virus.

Is this the kind of thing we want to open the doors of our armed forces to? Frankly, to me, it's madness!

The fact is, we recognize the importance of privacy for the two sexes. They are given separate living quarters, showers, and restroom facilities in the military.

Yet putting homosexuals and heterosexuals together in the same cramped living quarters is no different than forcing men and women to live together.

The results would be disastrous! I hope you agree with me. I hope you are as outraged as I am! We must stop this.

You already know that for 37 years, the American Security Council has been in the forefront of protecting America's defenses.

It was our policy of "Peace Through Strength" that was adopted by President Reagan during his Presidency. And it was that policy of "Peace Through Strength" that led to the collapse of Soviet Communism and prevented a nuclear holocaust.

And it was our "Coalition for Desert Storm" that helped President Bush rally the support he needed to implement his policy and win such a stunning victory against Saddam Hussein.

Now, our armed forces are under attack from within.

We face an internal threat that could tragically undermine the health and morale of the men and women who so bravely serve our nation and protect our way of life.

Every survey taken shows the men and women in our services overwhelmingly oppose admitting homosexuals.

That's why it's so urgent that you sign the petition I've sent to you and return it to me immediately.

The tactic of the Clinton Administration calls for delay until July 15, then quietly implement his policy while thinking the public is diverted by other issues. We must keep the pressure on.

In the final analysis, it is the men and women on active duty that must bear the load of this change in policy. For the sake of the men and women in our armed forces, we must fight this battle every step of the way.

But the truth is, if you don't care -- if you don't help -- we could very well lose this battle.

Because if you and thousands of friends like you don't support this campaign, I can't continue it. It all depends on you.

So please, it's urgent that you immediately sign and return your petition to me.

My goal is to contact millions of Americans just like you during the next four months, give them the facts, and have them sign petitions just like I've sent you.

Imagine the impact we can have if we can flood Congress with petitions signed by 1,000,000 concerned and angry Americans.

I don't know how to put it to you any more directly than that. We can -- and we must -- win this battle.

But if you don't help, if you don't sign and return your petition, and if you don't send a gift of $15, $25, or even $100 or as much as you can, I can't continue this campaign.

Don't let radical homosexuals win the right to enter our armed forces and make a mockery of the hallowed traditions of those who have fought and died for our freedom. Their sexual practices are revolting to the vast majority of Americans.

Please take action right now. Our nation's future is literally at stake.

PETITION TO UNITED STATES CONGRESS
NATIONAL CAMPAIGN TO KEEP THE BAN ON HOMOSEXUALS IN THE MILITARY

I am alarmed and angry that President Clinton has decided to allow homosexuals into our armed forces.

The purpose of our military is to defend our nation, not serve as a social laboratory.

I agree with Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, General Colin Powell, when he said that allowing homosexuals in the military would be "prejudicial to good order and discipline."

The homosexual lifestyle is simply not compatible with the close living conditions that must be endured by our military personnel.

As my Senators and Representative, I strongly urge you to act to codify into law a renewed ban on homosexuals in our armed forces.

Signed _____

THE AMERICAN SECURITY COUNCIL FIGHTING FOR A STRONG AMERICA FOR 38 YEARS

"As an early member of your Coalition for Peace Through Strength, I supported the resolution for a Peace Through Strength strategy, and it was incorporated as part of the 1980 Republican Platform.

"Quietly and effectively, your Coalition for Peace Through Strength has made a great contribution toward restoring the credibility of America's defenses and assuring that all-important margin of safety. Your work on Capitol Hill and with the public at large has been a principal factor in returning America to the days when she was militarily strong and morally principled."

Former President Ronald Reagan
Speech to American Security Council

"Without the American Security Council we would not have the B-1 Bomber, and MX Missile or a Trident Submarine."

The Late U.S. Senator John Tower
When he was Chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee

"The American Security Council can justifiably claim a considerable share of the credit for the liberation of Eastern Europe ... Communism did not collapse under its own dead weight It was Western military resistance, in large part possible because of the efforts of the American Security Council, which made Gorbachev realize that the costs of a totalitarian empire overwhelmed its benefits."

Congressman Duncan Hunter
Member, House Armed Services Committee

With headquarters in Washington, D.C., and a Washington Communications Center in Northern Virginia, the American Security Council has led the fight for a strong and secure America for over 38 years.

Widely recognized by every U.S. President since Dwight Eisenhower, and by hundreds of members of Congress for its expertise in national defense and military matters, ASC has taken the lead in critical issues of national security ranging from opposition to the nuclear freeze, to support for the Strategic Defense Initiative.

Now faced with a drastic reduction in defense spending, and with a radical change in military personnel policy, ASC continues to stand guard and fight for a strong and free America.
